VICTORY SCORED BY DRY FORCES IN BEER FIGHT

Postpone Legislation On New Draft Of Rules Indefinitely
ARE PREMATURE
Will Await Outcome Of Proposed New Amendments

Washington, May 3.—The "drys" scored heavily today in a fight against beer and wine sales by forcing the treasury to hold up regulations governing malt and vinous liquors.

Action upon a new draft of rules authorizing druggists' sales of such liquors on physicians' prescriptions was postponed for an indefinite period, pending the results of new "dry" legislation in congress.

The treasury's decision to withhold authority for such liquor sales to the public came after conferences when officials agreed new rules would be premature in view of prospect of new amendments to the Volstead law nullifying them.

By today's decision which practically side tracked carefully drawn regulations, under which brewers would have been allowed to go ahead full speed making "medicinal" beer with a kick and sales to the sick would have been authorized in amounts of 4 to 8 gallons at one time, the machinery for issuing these classes of non-beverage permits was brought to an abrupt stop.

Depends on Congress
All now depends upon what congress does about beer and wine. Officials asserted that it would be futile to expand the government enforcement machine, if congress finally decides to place a ban upon beer as a medicine. The program is for speedy action upon the bill introduced by Rep. Volstead amending the enforcement act, specifically barring beer as a medicinal agent.

Rep. Volstead was determined to "railroad" the bill through the judiciary committee. Hearings on this measure will begin May 12 and will be rushed to a conclusion within a few days. Plans to expedite a report to the house on the measure are complete despite the fact that various groups are clamoring to be heard in opposition.

Prohibition enforcement officials were confident that no restrictions will be put on wine as a medicine. The Volstead bill provides that only "spirited and vinous" liquors shall be prescribed medicinally by doctors. The fight is aimed chiefly at beer.

New regulations dealing with whiskey may be necessary if "dry" leaders put through their program further to restrict the use of whiskey for non-beverage purposes. Before the judiciary committee reports the bill it is understood "dry" leaders will endeavor to insert a clause further limiting the privilege of physicians and placing a new limit upon prescription blanks which may be allowed by the government over given periods.

Columbus Police To Arrest All Suspicious Prowlers

Persons Found On Streets After 12:30 a. m. Must Give Satisfactory Account Of Themselves To Avoid Being Locked Up.

Columbus, May 3.—As a result of the bold robberies at downtown theatres and at the Elks' club here this week, police chief French issued an order that all persons found on the streets after 12:30 a. m. who were unable to give a satisfactory account of themselves, be arrested.

Urging the policemen to rigidly observe this order, Chief French declared that efforts on the part of the police to rid the city of vagrants heretofore have been handicapped by the leniency of municipal court judges.

Chief French pointed out that out of over 100 men arrested on vagrancy charges during the past several months only one received the maximum penalty.

The police have no clues relative to the bandits who robbed the theatres yesterday morning. They suspect the crimes were pulled off by Chicago professional cracksmen and that the work was done under direction of a "master mind" the gang of 15 or more, bandits being assigned to the various groups of twos and threes operating practically simultaneously.

SAVE PASSENGERS ON BOARD BURNING VESSEL IN RIVER
U. S. Army Transport Hastens to Rescue Of Liner.

Seattle, Wash., May 3.—With survivors of the Japanese liner Tokuyoku Maru, which caught fire and capsized near the mouth of the Columbia river, aboard, the U. S. Army transport Bufford is enroute to this port today.

Most authentic reports early today said that all but four or five of the persons on board of the Tokuyoku Maru had been saved. Several of those rescued were injured.

The Tokuyoku Maru caught fire late yesterday and S. O. S. calls were sent out when the officers of the ship found the fire beyond their control. The Bufford picked up her wireless calls and rushed to her assistance.

FIRE HITS 500 FAMILIES
San Juan, Porto Rico, May 3.—Five hundred families were rendered homeless by fire which destroyed buildings covering an area of two blocks in Puerta de Tierra, the most thickly populated section of San Juan. graphed that Premier Briand would propose that the allies send a note to Washington expressing hope that the United States resume her place upon the reparations commission and the supreme council if peace is made with Germany by congressional resolution.

It was reliably learned today that the American government has given formal assurances to France that it will not do anything during the "grace period" granted to Germany that would delay military occupation of the Ruhr.

Jerusalem, May 3.—Twenty persons were killed and 150 wounded in a clash between Jews and Arabs at Jaffa Sunday. Troops succeeded in restoring order, without being compelled to fire on the fighting crowds.

NATIONAL FOREIGN TRADE COUNCIL TO HOLD CONVENTION

Expect 3,000 Delegates To Attend Sessions In Cleveland.

Cleveland, May 3.—When James A. Farrell president of the National Foreign Trade Council and the U. S. Steel Corporation raps for order tomorrow morning, what is described as the most important trade convention ever held in any American city will get under way here for a four day session, at which the problems of American foreign trade will be discussed.

More than 3,000 men engaged directly or indirectly in export trade are expected to be present before the ending of the convention on Saturday.

"American goods do not get a fair chance in the south American market," declared Max W. Boley, a former Cleveland man, who has just arrived as a representative of the American chamber of commerce at Buenos Aires, Argentina. "Most of the trouble has been that American manufacturers are represented by foreigners and by selling agencies that are not American. The American manufacturer is not able to keep through such agencies to keep in touch with the demands of his market, and as a consequence millions of dollars worth of American exports are now lying rejected on the wharves of South American ports."

Tonight the exhibit of the United States Shipping Board will be formally opened at 8 o'clock. This consists of a 55 foot model American mercantile vessel which will be christened "The City of Cleveland" and also an immense metal relief map of the world.

Delegates from all parts of the United States and from many foreign countries are arriving in Cleveland on every train.

Uniontown, Pa., May 3.—Two masked bandits held up an automobile in which Robert B. Graham, a stock broker, and three others were riding and robbed Graham of $35,000 in bonds. The bandits, after picking out $7,500 worth of oil stock, returned the remainder to Graham.

20 KILLED IN CLASH
Jerusalem, May 3.—Twenty persons were killed and 150 wounded in a clash between Jews and Arabs at Jaffa Sunday. Troops succeeded in restoring order, without being compelled to fire on the fighting crowds.

London, May 3.—International issues having American department have constantly cropped up since the supreme council meeting opened last Saturday but Premier Lloyd George urged a postponement of their consideration until a future date it was learned this afternoon.

Among the matters having an "American angle" which crept into the discussions of the allied statesmen was the question of Yap island now the subject of a controversy between Washington and Tokio.

The president's action follows a letter of protest from Senator Warren, chairman of the senate appropriations committee, declaring that there are many abuses of the privilege of asking deficiency appropriations.

POSTPONE HEARING OF AMERICAN ISSUES
London, May 3.—International issues having American department have constantly cropped up since the supreme council meeting opened last Saturday but Premier Lloyd George urged a postponement of their consideration until a future date it was learned this afternoon.

Among the matters having an "American angle" which crept into the discussions of the allied statesmen was the question of Yap island now the subject of a controversy between Washington and Tokio.

DUAL PURPOSE ACCOMPLISHED BY GOVERNMENT

Leaves Final Decision Up To Germany In the Matter.

SEE NEW TROUBLE

Believe Government Of Germany Will Fall In Near Future.

Washington, May 3.—Having accomplished its two fold purpose—getting the allies and Germany once more into negotiation, and delaying the drastic military action planned by France—the United States government has again stepped out of the reparations controversy, temporarily at least, leaving the ultimate decision up to Germany.

This is the interpretation placed in Washington today on Secretary Hughes' latest communication to Berlin dispatched late last night in which he notified the German government formally that its reparations proposals could not be forwarded to the allies as affording a suitable basis for discussion.

The next move in the reparations game is distinctly up to Germany, it was said today. With the Berlin government rests the momentous decision whether to accept the allied offer now being prepared in London, or whether to reject it and to see her richest industrial regions occupied by alien troops. Germany has until May 12 to cast the die.

Fear Expressed

The fear most expressed in Washington today was that the present German government may fall within the next fortnight, leaving Germany in a state of more or less chaos from which it might take months to recover.

The Simons ministry is none too strongly entrenched in German public opinion anyhow, according to advisers reaching the state department and it is believed that it would not take a very heavy push to topple it over.

Whatever be the ultimate solution arrived at in London and Berlin this government officials emphasize today, can contemplate with satisfaction its role in the controversy. The American government it was pointed out, has acted in a wholly friendly capacity with both sides, with Germany by interceding for her, and with the allies by declining to forward proposals, which were obnoxious to them.

The state department, it was stated, has successfully played the part of a mediator in a situation of extreme delicacy without getting the black eye which usually falls to the lot of the disinterested peace-maker.

No further moves involving the United States are expected at least until the allied ultimatum has been received and digested by Berlin.

VIRTUAL TIE UP OF SHIPPING REPORTED

Baltimore, May 3.—With a virtual tie up of sea going shipping at this port, due to the attempt of steamship operators to enforce a 15 per cent reduction in the wages of their employees, Captain F. H. Haines of the Sea Service Bureau of the United States shipping board today charged that armed striking marine workers are plying about the harbor in launches intimidating men who want to ship on American vessels.

Captain Haines said he would ask police protection from the city and federal authorities.

STRIKE SCHEDULED FOR EARLY THURSDAY

Canton, O., May 3.—Unless the men succeed in getting the Northern Ohio Traction company to arbitrate before midnight Wednesday street car employees of Canton and the interurban lines running out of here will go on a strike Thursday morning. A vote was started last night and will be completed today, favoring the strike, after it was announced that the traction company refused to back down from its offer of a cut of 15 cents an hour in the men's pay. The men made a counter offer, late yesterday, to accept a 5 cent an hour cut, but the traction company turned this down. Arbitration seemed to be out of the question the men said.

Mrs. Flagler formerly was Miss Beatrice Frances Wencker of Brooklyn. Her first husband was James Divisch, Jr., whom she divorced in June, 1920. She is thirty-three years old.

FORD'S ATTEMPT TO UNSEAT NEWBERRY VIRTUALLY AT END

Republican Leaders Say Senator Wrongfully Convicted.

Washington, May 3.—Republican leaders of the senate today stated that they regard the efforts of Henry Ford to unseat Senator Truman H. Newberry, Republican, of Michigan, as "virtually at an end."

They construed the decision of the supreme court in holding the corrupt practices act unconstitutional as applied to primary elections, and Senator Newberry therefore wrongfully convicted of conspiracy to violate it, as having "settled the matter."

Sharp exception was taken by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican majority leader and other leading Republican senators, to the statement made by Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, a member of the senate elections and privileges committee, that the decision would not prevent the committee from going ahead with its investigation of the Newberry case.

Senator Spencer was declared to have taken an "unauthorized" view of the situation created by the decision and to have spoken for himself and not for the committee. He was said to have been admonished by Senator Lodge for the statement.

DEMOCRATS WILL LAY PLANS AGAINST DUNN MEASURE

Columbus, O., May 3.—Plans for fighting the Dunn emergency act providing for reorganization of state departments will be discussed at a meeting here Thursday of Democratic state central and executive committeemen and county chairmen.

Announcement was made that referendum petitions will be circulated if the proposed suit in the state supreme court, designed to invalidate the emergency clause, is successful.

2,800 BODIES LEAVE FRANCE

Cherbourg, May 3.—The United States army transport Wheaton with 2,800 bodies of American soldiers aboard, sailed from this port for Antwerp. At Antwerp the transport will receive 10,000 more bodies and then sail for New York.

NEXT STEP NOW UP TO GERMANY ON REPARATIONS

Allies Place Full Responsibility On German Leaders

FINAL NOTE SENT

Allied Leaders In Agreement On Set Of Proposals.

London, May 3.—Plans for allied military and naval pressure upon Germany to compel payment of indemnity were approved by the supreme council today.

Following the initial session of the council which ended at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, Premier Briand of France, issued the following statement:

"The military and naval experts presented plans which were approved. Approval is assured for the report of the financial experts which will be taken up later in the afternoon."

Premier Briand said he would return to Paris tomorrow morning.

London, May 3.—Full responsibility for the occupation of the Ruhr allied troops—if the allies put this military penalty into effect—was put to Germany today not only by the entente but by the United States.

Germany is called upon to meet the indemnity demands of the allies as laid down by the reparations commission under the terms of the treaty of Versailles which Germany formally signed.

Only the final details of the allied ultimatum giving Germany until May 12 to meet the demand for 132,000,000 gold marks, exclusive of the 12,000,000 gold marks which Germany defaulted prior to May 1, remained to be worked out when the supreme council met for its last session.

The full text of the ultimatum was placed before the supreme council. It is a lengthy document listing German infractions of the Versailles treaty, especially her failures to pay her financial obligations.

Tremendous Reaction.
According to foreign office advisers, the news of allied unanimity has had a tremendous reaction in Germany and a situation has been created parallel to that at the time of the signature of the peace treaty.

Belief is expressed that the government headed by Chancellor Fehrenbach and Foreign Minister Simons is preparing to resign and will be replaced by a government which will accept the allied terms. The financial experts, who are working out the details of the terms of German payments met at the treasury at 9:30 o'clock. The news that Secretary of State Hughes had sent a memorandum to Germany urging her to meet the allied demands was the source of much satisfaction to the allied statesmen.

Following the formal dispatch of the reparations ultimatum the next step will be up to Germany. She must either accept or reject the allied terms without discussion. That France expected Germany to reject the ultimatum was indicated by the military preparations which are under way along the Franco-German border. The fateful days of 1914 were recalled by the heavy troop movements in France towards the eastern frontier. The French army strength was increased by nearly 200,000 men by the mobilization of the 1913 class.

It was understood that the Allies demanded payments of half a billion dollars a year, beginning at once, while the proposed interest rate of 2 1/2 per cent was increased and the proposed tax of 12 per cent on German exports was doubled.

All sections of the supreme council were satisfied with the decisions that were finally reached.

"We are in agreement," said Premier Briand of France and in his jovial expression there was no trace of anxiety or anger.

The reparations experts are expected to have the full terms, explaining the full amount Germany must pay and the methods of payments worked out before Friday. Germany will then have six days in which to study the conditions and to give her reply to the supreme council. During the interim the allies will notify Germany of the guarantees she must give that payment will be made.

If Germany's reply is in the negative, France, British and Belgian troops will begin their forward movement from the Rhine. It is accepted as a foregone conclusion that the American troops in the Coblenz area will not participate.

The French troops will be thrown forward in two columns. The Ruhr district with its 168 coal mines and vast industrial enterprises, including the Krupp works at Essen would be completely encircled.

POPULATION FIGURES OF GREENE COUNTY BY TOWNSHIP ARE MADE PUBLIC

Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith has compiled and issued statistics of population by counties and minor civil divisions, covering the 1900, 1910 and 1920 federal censuses.

	1920	1910	1900

Beaver Creek Township	2,229	1,959	2,070
Caesars Creek Township	882	915	1,039

Jefferson Twp., including Bowersville	1,209	1,263	1,528

Sugar Creek Twp., including Bellbrook	1,193	1,196	1,368
Xenia Twp., including Xenia City	12,879	12,009	12,329

Greene County's population in 1920 was 31,321, in 1910 it was 29,785 and in 1900, 31,613.

The new figures give the first correct population since the annexation of new territory by the extension of the corporate limits, which was done after the census and been taken, and was counted afterward.

The territory, taken in, includes 630 people according to the 1920 census, which annexed to the city July 26, 1920, gives a total population for this city of 9,740.

The population of Xenia given by wards, does not include the annexed territory:

Ward 1	2,510
Ward 2	2,534
Ward 3	2,218
Ward 4	1,848

To this is added the 630 acquired by annexation bringing the city's total to 9,740.

THE NEW BUICK

IS A REAL 1921 MODEL

The Buick which you buy today is a real 1921 Model. It embraces not only the basic engineering which has made Buick famous, but all the improvements, developments and refinements which the most thorough and exacting tests up to this time have proven worth while.

Changing the color of the paint on a 1920 Model does not make it a 1921 Model, nor does putting a lot of "gim-cracks" on the dash have that result. It must go deeper than that.

We learn improved methods of carburation, of oiling; we learn that certain steels are better for certain parts of the car, than which have been in general use. We find methods of improving the electrical equipment and so on down the line.

So when you buy a 1921 Buick you get not only all the features which have made of it a world-famous car, but you get an up-to-the-minute model, one of the very few obtainable.

CAR OWNERS—Now is the time to have your car gone over and put in shape. Our Repair Department will give you the best service; only the best Mechanics employed, and with our labor charges reduced to you, you will save money by bringing your car to us for your repairs and supplies.

It will pay you to see us for prices on tires, oils and accessories, as we have pre-war prices. No one lower on quality goods.

MT. TABOR CAVE LOST TO FORMER OWNERS BY RULING

By a decision of Judge E. P. Middleton, of Urbana, announced Monday, the William Reames family which has owned and operated the famous Mount Tabor cave since its discovery in 1897, loses possession of all but the entrance and 300 feet of passage way, the remainder and most valuable portion of the cave being awarded to Albert H. Smith, under whose property it lies.

When Smith discovered that the cave lay under his property about a year ago, he filed suit in the Urbana courts to enjoin the Reames family from trespassing and to secure his rights and title to his portion of the cave. After two hearings on the case, Judge Middleton announced his decision.

Smith will attempt to sink a shaft to the cave on his property and made improvements and conduct explorations which will make the cave sought after by tourists the state over.

The following letters give the experience of two young women and prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Chicago, Ill.—"I was always tired, my head always ached, and my back ached until I could hardly stand the pain. I doctored for years, and the doctor said nothing but an operation would help me, and that I could not have children. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles of it and it helped me wonderfully, and I now have a fine baby boy, thanks to what your medicine did for me in restoring my health. I can highly recommend the Compound to all women who suffer from female ills."—Mrs. W. M. REISS, 304 Willow St., Chicago, Ill.

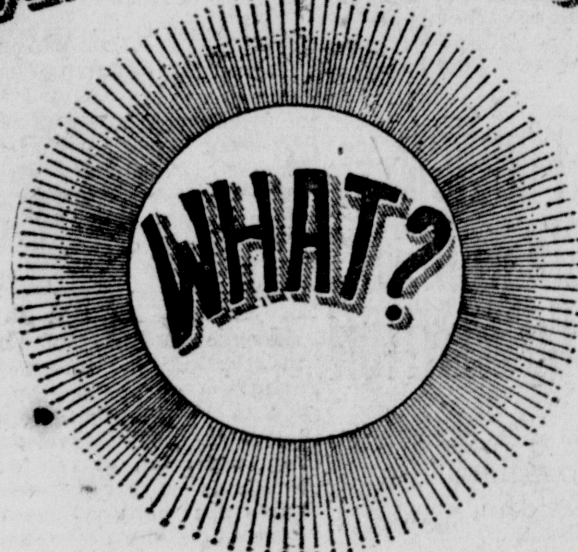

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a very nervous condition, was irregular, and could not have any children. I took doctor's medicine without success, and he advised an operation. That it will take $100,000 to swing the organization was the statement of Mr. Prugh, who said that it was proposed to raise this amount by collecting ten cents from every member of every civic organization in the Valley. A more definite program will be prepared and submitted to the people at a mass meeting to be held in the near future, and the local Board of Directors, deferred action on the matter until that time.

BELIEVE FAILURE TO CHANGE CLOCK CONFUSES FARMERS

Two members of the Board of County Commissioners said Tuesday, that the hands of the Court House clock would not be changed to conform with daylight saving.

Their decision, they said, has been governed considerably by the number of protests which have reached them, including concerted action on the part of the Greene County Farm Bureau and the local grange, discouraging the change of time.

R. D. Williamson, of the Board, said Tuesday: "It is a question in my mind as to whether it is wisdom not to change the time of the clock. I believe it will be more confusing to people coming in from the country and other towns in the county not to have the town clock conform with the new city time, than it would if the clock was moved ahead an hour. However, in view of the protests received, we will take no action on the question whatever, and leave the clock unchanged."

It was pointed out by citizens, Tuesday, that Mr. Williamson's point is a good one. For while people outside of Xenia will abide by the old standard or train time, yet when coming into this city, it is to their advantage to be informed on Xenia time, and if the hands of the town clock were moved forward, it would be a constant reminder to the business visitor in Xenia, that he must complete his business an hour sooner, than the time his watch says. On the other hand, a person from the country or any of the smaller towns in the county, coming into Xenia and considering only town clock time, would be unable to get in a bank after two o'clock town clock time, or in a local store after 4:30 or five o'clock town clock time."

BELIEVE MAIL SACKS DROPPED FROM CAR

Piqua, May 3.—There are no new developments regarding the three mail sacks, which were found last Thursday afternoon on the island near Troy.

It is the opinion of some officers that the sacks may have dropped from a mail car on the Pennsylvania railroad while crossing the Miami river bridge at Piqua, but others hold that if they had been washed to the spot where they were found they would not have been lying together.

The sacks were discovered by Ivan Penny, Dolphus Hunt and James Heikes, three Troy young men, who were out on a fishing trip and noticed Sheriff Ben Herr, who delivered the sacks to Postmaster Charles Dale.

The sacks containing only second class and parcel post mail. Newspapers in the sacks bore the date of March 5.

The local Presbyterian Church has been without a pastor since the resignation of Rev. J. O. C. McCracken, several months ago.

Lodge, to hold a reception for the new members at the lodge rooms, in two weeks on May 16th. On Tuesday, May 3 several delegates from the lodge will attend the State Convention of the order to be held at the New Southern Hotel in Columbus.

PRESENT REPORTS ON CLEAN UP DRIVE JUST COMPLETED

The final wind-up of this year's annual clean-up campaign was brought about with the presentation of reports at the meeting of the general committee that carried on the work, held at the Chamber of Commerce, Monday afternoon.

The report of J. Perry Shumaker former city engineer, who had charge of the collection of dirt on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, showed that 430 loads were hauled away by trucks and teams donated by business men for this purpose. The saving in the cost of this hauling, due to the donation of the vehicles was estimated by the engineer at $255.

As a result of this report, the committee immediately ordered letters of appreciation and thanks sent the following firms, which donated their trucks or teams to the cause; the County Highway Truck, by County Surveyor W. J. Davis; the Wilson Engineering & Contracting Company; the Stiles Company; the city street team; the Loyd Contracting Company and the Walker Company. An expression of thanks was also given Mr. Shumaker.

So economically was the annual cleanup arranged that out of the small amount of money collected for the work, a sum was saved. This amount, it was agreed will be considered as the nucleus of a fund for the purpose of providing street markers for all the streets in the city, the thoroughfares now being inadequately marked, or not marked at all.

For this reason, a committee consisting of Mrs. C. A. Weaver, Mrs. Charles Kelbie, Mrs. Marcus Shoup, Mrs. Meda Gowdy and P. J. Slackford, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was appointed to investigate the feasibility of such a work and to carry it out. It will probably be necessary however, to secure more money with which to carry on such an undertaking, and it will be attempted as a separate venture.

Much credit for the success of the clean up campaign of 1921 goes to the hard working general committee which carried it through, it is generally conceded.

The movement began when a committee from the Social Service League and a committee from the Chamber of Commerce were appointed to work jointly, and they were enlarged and merged into one general committee, with Dr. A. C. Messenger, of the Chamber of Commerce as their head, Mrs. Meda Gowdy, secretary and Frank Keyes, treasurer.

The general committees were as follows: Publicity—Mrs. Marcus Shoup, Mrs. D. W. Cherry, Mrs. C. B. Mowrer, Mrs. Austin M. Patterson and Mrs. H. L. Sayre; Finance—Mrs. Walter L. Dean, Mrs. Mary L. Collins, Mrs. A. C. Messenger, and Mrs. George A. Birch, Transportation—Mrs. C. A. Weaver, Districting the City—Mrs. Eber Reynolds, Sr., Mrs. John A. North and Frank W. Dodds; Printing—Mrs. James A. Chew, Dr. R. H. Grube, H. A. Higgins; securing boys for assistants—Mrs. Charles Kelbie; Prizes for boys—Mrs. Thurman Earley.

Palmer, editor of the Traffic World, Chicago, spoke on "The Railroad Problem and the Solution of That Problem," at the conclusion of the meeting.

ANTIOCH IS NOSED OUT BY WILBERFORCE

Antioch College baseball team lost to Wilberforce University for the second time this season at Yellow Springs Monday, by the score of 12-12.

Poor fielding, and bad support throughout the contest on both sides, made the game a farce. The fact that miserable baseball weather was dealt out by the weather man, also hindered good play. Antioch was leading 12-6, in the eighth inning when the colored lads scored seven runs and won out. The score: Wilberforce.....010041070-13 Antioch.....250010400-12

"THE GIRL PATSY" IS OFFERED BY SHANNONS

Others in the cast are H. C. "Red" Souber, Jessie Collier, Paul Jackson, Lotta Maye, Danna Bailey, J. H. Prescott, Rex Keith Bonvare, Adelaide Lorene, Al. W. Emerson. ## "BY THE ETERNAL!"

On the day the Naval Appropriations Bill passed the House a vote of 212 to 15 President Harding was telling 1000 officers of the Atlantic Fleet:

"We do want that which is righteously our own. And, by the Eternal, we mean to have that!"

The vote of the House and the voice of the President echoed each to each. And the echoes of that speech and that vote will be e-echoed wherever demagogues or selfish statesmen, in or out of the United States, may flourish.

America does believe in upholding its rights, in defending itself and its people. America believes in the navy. Americans will approve the President's solemn declaration and that vote of the House passing the Naval Bill without cutting off a single battleship or crippling a squadron.

The "little-navy" group was smothered in the sentiment that unless and until limitation of armament comes by international agreement the United States will keep a blade in reach of its sword-arm. There is a strong disarmament movement in this country. All of it is not honest or sane, but much of it is. Sane advocates of this policy understand that we cannot act alone unless we wish to invite an overwhelming attack. The vote on the Naval Bill shows that reason has not been routed by sentiment.

That "By the Eternal" of President Harding has an old-time American ring. It comes down from the days of Andy Jackson. There is warning in it and much assurance. Both were needed.

MEXICAN RECOGNITION.

There has come an ending to the policy of wait, watch and see, so far as American-Mexican relations are concerned. Washington is about to recognize the Obregon regime in Mexico and give that perennially troubled land a fair chance to get on the high road of a better destiny.

There is to be no pretty passing or fanciful maneuvering diplomatically. Obregon will not be forced to issue a protocol of guarantees, a humiliation that might very well shove him into the list of ex-Presidents.

The way to recognition is to be smoothed as much as possible. While none of America's rights is to be flouted, Secretary Hughes expects to safeguard them without affronting Mexican sensibilities.

What matters whether we have assurances or guarantees from Mexico? Fulfillment of either will depend upon the men, the good will and the spirit of the Mexican Government.

When the settlement comes and recognition is extended, here will be a general feeling of satisfaction in the United States. Despite all the irritations that have been ours since the Iadero rebellion of 1910, America has little other than good wishes for Mexico and the Mexicans. Frontier bitterness does not extend far from the border. Mexico always has been a good customer of ours, and her sons have been welcomed in our schools.

THE VALUE OF WELL KEPT HOMES.

Governor Lake of Connecticut has issued a proclamation appointing May 6 as Arbor and Bird day. He recommends that all citizens, but particularly the teachers and pupils in schools, observe the day and adds:

Let the pupils of our schools be taught that the planting and care of shade trees, the protection of birds and their eggs, is not only an economic measure, but contributes to the beauty of our state and the enjoyment of our homes. I further recommend the formation of town and village improvement associations to encourage tree planting and bird protection and to exercise interested care over matters relating to the scenic beauty of our towns and cities. Well kept roads, streets and lawns enhance the value of property and promote the general welfare of towns and villages.

Observe especially the last sentence: "Well kept roads, streets and lawns enhance the value of property and promote the general welfare of towns and villages."

Here is official recognition of the economic value of beauty. Common experience shows that Governor Lake is right. If Xenia City continues its clean-up until every lawn is well kept and every building tidy and painted, won't the tendency be to increase property values?

BRAVERY RECOGNIZED BY CARNEGIE FUND.

Twenty-three acts of heroism were recognized by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission in awards announced at Pittsburgh, April 29. In two cases silver medals were awarded; in twenty-one cases bronze medals.

Five of the heroes lost their lives and to the dependents of three of them pensions aggregating $1,920 a year were granted, while to the dependents of one of these and of one other whose life was lost the sum of $2,500 was granted, to be applied as the commission may sanction.

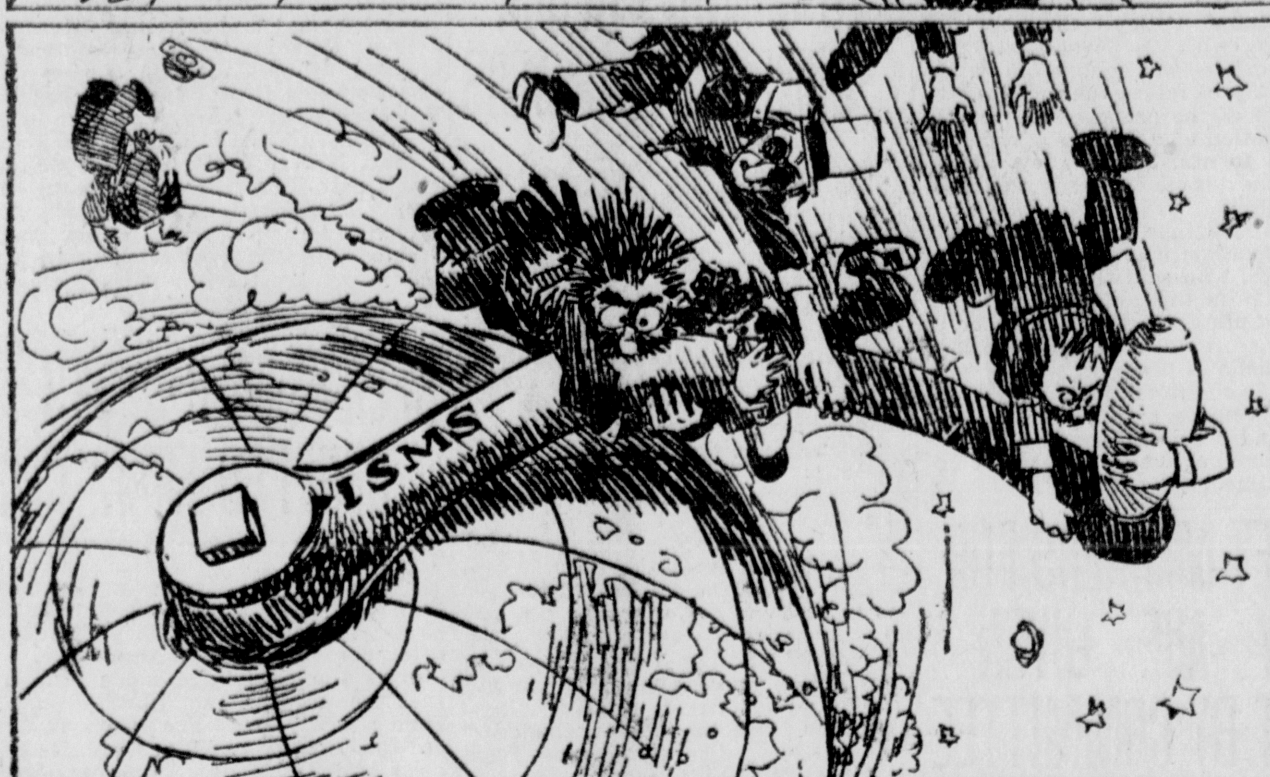

In addition to these money grants, in nine cases awards aggregating $14,400 were appropriated for educational purposes, and in six cases awards aggregating $5,500 were made for other worthy purposes.

THE SLEUTH.

In the best detective fiction there's a superman sublime, who with little fuss or friction, follows up the threads of crime. When the city cops are baffled, comes old Sherlock to the place, leads the guilty to the scaffold, and remarks, "A simple case!" Oh, the cops are represented as a bonehead bunch of paks, men whose bones could not be bent with a cleaver or an ax. But the cops to things surprising, putting guilty gents in jails, though they let no advertising in the Sherlock kind of tales. Crimes of mystery unending shock the virtuous and true, and we see the fly ops wending, following some feeble clue; and no Watson with hem capers till their weary quest is done, writing up for books and papers stories of the triumphs won. By biographers forsaken, sleuths go forth to earn their pay, and they oft bring home the bacon in their drab, official way. Not by making brilliant dashes through deduction's puzzling maze, not by analyzing shes do they pinch the erring jays. Just by stern and patient plodding, just by using honest brains, they put down the base arrauding of the sinful jakes and janes.

EVERY GENERATION HAS ITS LITTLE GROUP THAT TRIES TO CHANGE THE COURSE OF THE WORLD

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Messrs Hennessey and Levy of the court house construction company, who have been looking after the progress of the work in this city for a day or two, took their departure for Chicago last night. From there they will go to Memphis to look after a contract, expecting to be absent about a month.

A special train in two sections, in all about sixty cars, loaded with binders and mowers for the Warder, Bushnell and Glessner Company of Springfield, passed through Xenia this morning. The new cars just out of the shops, gaily decorated made an attractive and cheering sight and attracted a great amount of excitement in their passage through this city. Mr. John Brennan, who has charge of the tailoring department of the O. S. & S. O. Home was relieved of his bicycle in a very slick manner last night. Mr. Brennan rode the wheel to this city, leaving it on the street for a few minutes, and upon his return the wheel was gone.

The farmers are unusually busy just now, being in the midst of corn planting. The recent rains have been of much benefit and have sent the grass and wheat along at a rapid rate.

There was a slight accident on South Detroit Street this morning, caused by the sewer caving in at a point near the C. H. & D. Depot. One of the workmen was caught and bruised up somewhat, but his injuries are not serious.

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

Suppose you had lived a hundred years ago. You would probably have woven the cloth to make your clothes. Likely you would have had to make your own soap. You would have had to sweep with a broom and perhaps make the broom, too. And when winter came you would have lived in the kitchen. You would have had to use mutton for chapped hands, and you would have bathed in a tin tub near a fire.

A hundred years ago nearly every home was a factory with diversified products. The family made nearly everything it used. It was difficult, as well as expensive to buy factory-made products, and the buyer could never be sure of the quality of manufactured goods. For the things the family did buy which were made outside the home it paid high prices. The village cobbler would make a pair of ordinary shoes for $25.00—as much as you pay now for the finest footwear. The best shoes you could have bought were made locally, for the cobbler in another village, who might have made a better product, was not accessible.

Then came advertising. It brought a new era of convenience for man. It gave him clothes at popular prices. It gave him better soap than was ever made in the home. It gave him a variety of soaps for various uses—and at a nominal cost.

Advertising has made the modern vacuum cleaner possible—and this equipment is sold at prices within the reach of the modern home owner. It has brought to you the furnace and steam and hotwater heat, making every room in the home habitable in the coldest weather.

Advertising has given you delicate face cream for chapped hands and faces. And it has given you the modern bath tub, with its great convenience.

Consider advertising in its relation to you. A genius created a talking machine. Through advertising millions learned of the development and have lived to enjoy the music of masters in their homes. Would you have talking machines today were it not for advertising? Obviously not.

The same genius created the incandescent lamp. It would have remained in obscurity had advertising not helped in its development. Advertising told of the story of the electric light, and today even the farmers who live in remote sections have well lighted homes.

Advertising has made all these conveniences economical. News of the development is carried to millions of people. Millions are shown the need for the convenience. The inventor develops enough demand to justify his making the new product in large quantities. He installs machinery to manufacture the product. His workmen become experts. Thus equipped he saves time and money in the manufacture of the product—and the cost is lessened. You benefit. You get a new convenience at a reasonable cost.

Every day, every week, every month, every year, advertising is telling the story of some new development. Read the advertisements. Study them carefully for they bring you messages of convenience and better living.

Letters To The Editor

Editor Gazette and Republican: Some few days ago I noticed a letter in your paper in regard to the vacation of the boys of teen age and I certainly agree with the writer of that letter. Such a proposition would solve many problems that are constantly confronting our schools. Such a plan would solve practically all of the juvenile problems of the small town of course we know that such could not be the case in the large city or it would have been adopted long ago and by conferring with those who know we find that the number of cases in juvenile court have been diminished by about 60 per cent so this surely is proof of what such organizations as the Boy Scouts and other boys clubs are doing. Then we must not forget that we ask a great deal of our boys which is as it should be. Let us ask our city Health Department what boys can do in a clean

Practical Business Talks

LOOK PROSPEROUS.

There is a story to the effect that J. Pierpont Morgan was once asked by a friend what he would do if he were broke—if he had only five dollars in the world. And his reply was: "I would go out and buy a silk hat."

There is a great deal of business philosophy in that little anecdote no matter whether it happens to be a true story or not.

The moral of it seems to be: TO BE PROSPEROUS, IT IS IMPORTANT THAT YOU FIRST LOOK PROSPEROUS.

Of course, the wearing of good clothes in itself will not make a man rich. But, all other things being equal, the well-dressed man will get further than the careless and slipshod one. A man must look his part, just as an actor must.

Shakespeare gives the young man excellent advice when he says: "Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy, but not expressed in fancy; rich, not gaudy: For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

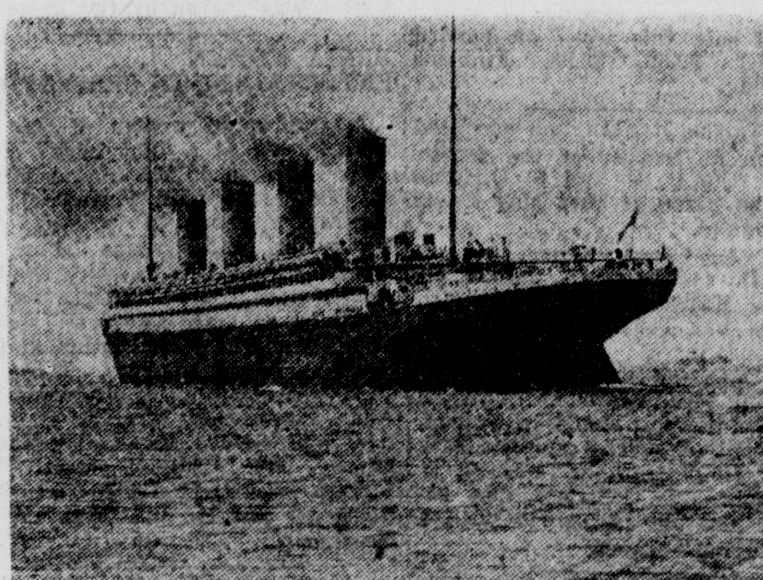

Ovid says: "We are charmed by neatness of person; let not thy hair be out of order." Carlyle remarks: "Great is the tailor."

Good clothes improve the morale, brighten the spirits and increase one's energy. Prove this to your own satisfaction. Some evening when you are all fagged out, go home, bathe and dress up in your best clothes. You will feel keyed up with new energy and spirit.

A man wearing a new suit carries himself more erect than one wearing an old suit. A clown, garbed in robes of mourning would be hard put to it, to ply his funny trade. Whereas the most solemn judge, dressed in Mardi Gras costume, would feel as merry as a clown.

Clothes DO make the man. If you would be a good salesman, dress well in smart business fashion. You judge strangers by their appearance. In the same way do people judge you.

A BANQUET THAT WAS ALMOST A TRAGEDY

"Three years ago at a banquet I was stricken with acute indigestion. Two doctors worked over me for an hour before I came to. I had had severe colic attacks before, but nothing like that. No doctors or medicine gave me permanent help until a friend, who was at the banquet, advised me to take a course of May's Wonderful Remedy, which I did with wonderful results." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. All druggists.

Neglect Keeps Doctors Busy

An eminent physician once said: "Were it not for people who neglect the early symptoms of disease, many doctors would have to find a new way to make a living."

Every winter doctors are busy calling on coughs and pneumonia patients because the first symptoms of colds were neglected.

Watch out for a cold this year. At the first sneeze and sniffle take Lightning Laxative Quinine Tablets. You'll stop the cold and feel like a new person in 24 hours. Never gripe or sicken. Druggists guarantee them.—35c a box.

TO REDUCE DANGEROUS VARICOSE VEINS

People who have swollen veins or bunches should not wait until they reach the bursting point, which means much suffering and loss of time, but should at once secure from any reliable druggist a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength). By using this powerful, yet harmless germicide treatment improvement is noticed in a few days and by its regular use swollen veins will return to their normal size, and sufferers will cease to worry. Moone's Emerald Oil treatment is used by physicians and in hospitals and is guaranteed to accomplish results or money refunded.

It reduces all kinds of enlarged glands, goiters and wens and is used exclusively in many large factories as an unfailing first aid to the injured antiseptic. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist can supply you.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Why suffer from a bad attack, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Xenia people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Could you ask for stronger proof of merit?

Mrs. David Pohl, 751 W. Second St., Xenia, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble and I am glad to recommend them. I suffered with lameness in my back quite often, but the most trouble came from bladder disorder and I was annoyed by the way my kidneys acted. When I got up I felt tired and drowsy and it seemed as if I never could get enough rest. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Dinges' Drug Store, helped me right away and two boxes cured me entirely. It has been some time since and I haven't been bothered that way at all."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Pohl had. Foster-Milburn Co. Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

ENTERS GUILTY PLEA TO BIGAMY CHARGE BEFORE TWO WIVES

Entering a plea of guilty to the charge of bigamy on which he was indicted by the May Grand Jury at its first sitting Monday morning, Oscar Parker, 26, former soldier at Fairfield, was sentenced to an indeterminate sentence in the Ohio State Reformatory, by Judge R. L. Gowdy in Common Pleas Court, Monday afternoon.

Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson, in securing an indictment against Parker, charged him with marrying Margaret Slusher, of Indianapolis, Ind., December 10, 1918, and then of marrying Emma Leona Toms, of Fairfield, March 17, of this year, without first securing the necessary divorce. It was brought out at the arraignment that Parker was remarried shortly after leaving his wife and nine-day-old baby at Indianapolis. Claude Slusher, of Indianapolis, father of wife No. 1, appeared with his daughter and her baby in Court, and wife No. 2, was a weeping witness to the sentence of her twice married husband, from the visitors' section.

In pleading guilty to the charge Parker asked that the court give him one more chance, by giving a suspended sentence, and said that he would return to his first wife and child and support them. The plea brought sobs of anguish from wife No. 2, who almost went into hysterical grief. It was charged by wife No. 1 and her father, however, that the second Mrs. Parker knew of Parker's first wife, but urged him away from her. Parker, it is said, was dishonorably discharged from the service at Wright Field last week.

In sentencing Parker to the Reformatory, Judge Gowdy said: "The time you stay there rests entirely with you. The usual time of sentence for this crime is from one to 20 years. If you go there with the determination to be a man, to obey their rules, and with the idea of coming back and taking care of your family, you will probably get out in a year. That is what I hope you will do. But I don't feel justified in granting a suspended sentence."

This is the first case of bigamy in the Greene county courts for several years.

The Revolt of Vera Sanderson

By JANE PHELPS.

Chapter 31.
Vera Takes Bridge Lessons.
I heard Margaret go back downstairs, but Keith did not come up, and I knew he was thinking of me of what Margaret had said:
"If only she had more womanliness, more poise, it would not be so hard for you, dear," and "we are always excusing her. There is no excuse for her making a baby of herself."
Perhaps Margaret was right one way. I did cry easily, perhaps—but they hurt me so, and I wanted to be loved and to be happy. Why at times the longing for love was so intense that I could only get relief by taking little Gloria out and while we walked, or sat in the park, listen to the prattle of her love for me. Often as we sat on a bench the feel of her little hand in mine, of the quick impulsive kiss would comfort me. She was an affectionate little thing, and I loved her dearly.
I determined as I lay there waiting for my husband, listening to the sound of his footsteps, that I would not be such a cry-baby. But I had fallen asleep before he came. I was young and healthy, and nature demanded that I rest and sleep even though I was unhappy.
The next morning Keith was kind and gentle with me, yet very quiet, scarcely answering when I spoke. He looked worn and tired. I now realize that this antagonism between his wife and his sister must have been very trying. He loved us both. I am sure. He had given his word to Margaret that he would not leave her, and he would not break it. It was really up to me to make him happy, but so often I was concerned with my unhappiness that I selfishly had no consideration of him.

That no house is large enough for two families is a truism. Surely ours was not.
I determined to learn to play cards as well as the members of the club, so that very day I made arrangements with a teacher to go to her three times a week. I said nothing to anyone of my plan. I feared if I mentioned it Margaret would find a way of preventing it.
It was expensive, but I had saved a few dollars occasionally and had enough to pay for my lessons without asking Keith for money. I concentrated upon my task, and my improvement was very gratifying. My teacher said I had "card sense," whatever that is, and so I got along faster than many of her pupils. Besides I already played a fair game, as I had been coached by Keith.
I also intrigued him into playing occasionally when we remained at home in the evening, Margaret and some friend of hers making the quartette. But I was careful that the proposal came from him. I suggested it when we were alone and he speaking of it to Margaret. I think he understood my plan, but if he did he never gave me away.
One night when we were playing in the library a Mrs. Grant making the fourth (a woman of whose playing I had tired of hearing), I played so well that Keith congratulated me, and Margaret said:
"She should play well if she is ever going to. We play a good deal with her. She has the advantage of learning with good players."

"That is everything!" Mrs. Green joined in. "Yet Mrs. Sanderson seems to know all the conventions, and how and when to apply them. I think she plays as well as any of us."
Margaret's face darkened. She always seemed to hate any one to praise me, or to show me any particular attention. So I simply said "thank you" to Mrs. Grant, and went on playing as well as possible.
"But the praise had made me a bit careless. And when Margaret and I made a mistake by which we lost the rubber, Margaret was immediately sarcastic and made some very cutting remarks. I knew she was furious at losing the game, yet that she was almost willing to lose because of placing me in the wrong."
"A really good player never makes such a faux pas," she said when Mrs. Grant said I wasn't to mind. I had flushed uncomfortably.
After Mrs. Grant left Margaret said:
"I entertain the club next week, Keith. Don't forget and make some engagement for that night."
"I'll remember. Wednesday, I suppose?"
"Yes."
I longed to ask if I were to play but dared not. But after we had gone upstairs I said to Keith.
"Don't you think I play well enough to play with the club now? I know I made a mistake tonight but I won't do it again."
"That is as Margaret decides." His tone forbade further conversation upon the subject.
